DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 12-21 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 17 February 2010. NOTE: It is suggested that applicant, in response to this office action, cancel claims 12-21 (reserving the right to pursue them is a continuing application).

Drawings

2. The drawings were received on 29 June 2010. These drawings are approved.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 2 and 5 are objected to because of the following informalities: they each depend from canceled claim 2. Appropriate correction is required. It is been assumed, for examination purposes, that they each depend from claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Scheier et al (USP 5,355,546). The patent to Scheier discloses a toothbrush (10) comprising a head (11A) incorporating a mass of elastomeric polyurethane material (13) (column 2, line 66) supporting tufts of (nylon: column 3, lines 16-18) bristles (12) with ends thereof being embedded in the polyurethane material and secured in a manner including adhesive, fusion and injection molding techniques" (column 3, lines 1-2).

6. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Inns et al (USP 5,970,564). The patent to Inns discloses a toothbrush head (23,24) which incorporates a mass of (polyurethane: column 4, line 19) elastomeric material (6,25) in which ends of (nylon: column 4, line 6) are embedded and bonded (column 4, lines 32-67).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 1,3-7,10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Inns et al (USP 5,970,564) or Scheier et al (USP 5,355,546) in view of Moskovich et al (US PUB 2004/0025275). Both the prior art toothbrushes of Inns and Scheier disclose the invention substantially as claimed, including the nylon bristles embedded in an elastomeric polyurethane material, with the exception of the gel material. They also each discloses a rigid frame of a polyamide material (nylon) (column 3, lines 64-67 in Inns and column 3, lines 16-18 in Scheier). '275 is cited to show that the use of a gel material (28) (paragraph 0026) for a similar purpose as the elastomeric materials of Inns and Scheier is known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time the invention was made to use such a gel material, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. The amended claims added features not mentioned previously, that being the nylon and polyurethane materials such that they bond to each other. As such, anew ground(s) of rejection has been applied.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
